

Padron Peppers Information Pack

Introduction

Hailed as the 'King of the Bar Snacks', Padron Peppers are a moreish and occasionally fiery addition to a snack menu. Most Padrans available in the UK are imported, and these long supply chains mean much of the natural, floral aroma that make Padrans so delicious is lost. We have been working behind the scenes to fix this by growing the first commercial crop of Padrans in the UK. The crop is now ready for you to sample and will run through until November, ensuring consistency on the menu. We are keen to find kitchens who want to partner with us in support of this grower.

Farm Information

Our grower in West Sussex is the expert when it comes to cropping capsicums. Warren and the team have worked tirelessly to make this crop commercially viable. It is grown in a climate-controlled glasshouse, using a 'good bugs eat bad bugs' best management system. Check out our Instagram for more information on this grower!

More

Our local West Sussex Padrans will be sold at 9.35/kg, price comparable with imported alternatives and of incomparable quality!
