

Berries Information Pack

Introduction

Some of the best berries in the world are grown on the south coast of the UK. High demand and value has seeded cutting edge innovation in this industry, showcasing how agriculture can be both technologically advanced whilst working in harmony with nature.

We are spoilt for choice when it comes to berry growers around us in West Sussex, but we have built close relationships with a few of our favourites to ensure consistent supply across the season.

Farm Information

The Summer Berry Company is based in Chichester, West Sussex, and are at the forefront of sustainable berry production in the UK. They grow strawberries, blueberries, raspberries and blackberries under glass and in field. They have also partnered with another local company to slowly dry all surplus berries to turn into snacks and flavour powders, reducing their annual food waste to almost zero. They have been working with the Soil Association Exchange to bring more biodiversity onto their farm, intercropping the fruit with native flowers, grasses and hedgerows that support a plethora of wildlife, many of which work to reduce the pest burden on the crops themselves!

The New Forest Fruit Company also grow your early season asparagus but are most famous for their berries. Situated in the New Forest, opposite the Isle of Wight, they sit in a meteorological enclave that creates the ideal environment for growing berries, producing an exceptionally sweet crop. Sandy and the team take the environmental impact of farming very seriously, and actively work to integrate the rich natural environment around them into their farming system.
